

Examination Boards & Web-based Information

Most of the information you and your child will require can be found in this booklet or within the revision pack that students will take away from the Revision Evening. If however, you would like to find out additional information, the specifications for each subject can be found on the internet. The table below shows subject by subject the examination board, syllabus code and appropriate website.

You will find the websites useful for obtaining the following information:

- Detailed specification content;
- Recommended reading;
- Past examination papers, specimen examination papers (useful for new specifications) and mark schemes;
- Key vocabulary
